WELCOME

The University of Washington Bothell welcomes you to our 35th annual Commencement. We are proud of our graduates and thank you for helping us celebrate this special occasion.

We are honored that the Class of 2026 followed in the footsteps of more than 33,000 University of Washington Bothell alumni in entrusting their higher education to our faculty and staff. We take the responsibility seriously to provide an inclusive internationally and nationally ranked university experience that prepares our students to be creative thinkers, researchers, workplace innovators and civic leaders. Our curriculum emphasizes discovery and innovation through close student-faculty interaction, collaboration among students and hands-on learning. At UW Bothell, our students earn an acclaimed University of Washington degree while building solid foundations of relevant knowledge, practical skills and professional preparation. They engage our community as partners in education and research, and develop collaborative solutions to the most pressing problems facing our region and the world today.

Every student who decides that the UW Bothell experience is right for them is valued for the experiences they bring and the contributions they make. The vast majority are local and stay local. Nine out of 10 of our students are from the state of Washington and remain after attaining their degree. Our graduates are leading change across industries and in the community, all of which directly contributes to our regional economy and enriches our community.

Join us in congratulating the University of Washington Bothell Class of 2026!

THE ACADEMIC GARB

The academic dress worn by scholars in the commencement procession originated in the Middle Ages. When European universities were forming in the 12th and 13th centuries, the scholars usually were clerics as well, and they adopted garb similar to that of their monastic orders. Buildings were cold and drafty, so hoods and caps for shaved heads, and warm, floor-length capes were necessities.

As the control of education passed from the churches, the garb was modified in various ways, and there was great diversity in color and style of cap, gown and hood worn at the different institutions. The custom of wearing academic dress was brought to this country and in 1895 a standardized code of academic dress was established that is followed by most colleges and universities in the United States. Although some institutions have added more colorful regalia, the black robe, hood and cap are the typical apparel.

Both cap and gown are symbols. According to legend, the privilege of wearing a cap was the initial right of a freed Roman slave. The academic cap, therefore, has become a sign of the freedom of scholarship. The Oxford mortarboard, said to have originated in ancient Greece, symbolizes the scholar's commitment to a life of building. The gown has become symbolic of the democracy of scholarship, intended to cover clothing that could indicate rank or social stratum. The bachelor's gown is plain, with long, pointed and open sleeves. The master's gown has even longer sleeves, closed at the bottom with openings midway for the hands. The doctor's gown has full-length lapels and bell-shaped sleeves with three horizontal velvet bars.

Baccalaureate honors – Summa Cum Laude, Magna Cum Laude and Cum Laude – are awarded for outstanding undergraduate scholarship with a minimum 90 credits earned and the honors grade-point average met.

Faculty Honors are granted to graduates who are ranked in the top 10% of their respective programs with a minimum 70 graded credits, except Bachelor of Science in Nursing program who must earn a minimum 43 credits.

The colors of honor cords, tassels and hoods reflect the degree of the wearer. The University of Washington Bothell colors are as follows:

Honor cords: baccalaureate honors – gold; Faculty Honors – purple

Tassels: BA Applied Computing – white; BA Business Administration – royal blue; BA Health Studies – white; BA Interactive Media Design – white; BA Interdisciplinary Studies – white; BS Biology – golden yellow; BS Chemistry – golden yellow; BS Computer Science & Software Engineering – golden yellow; BA Educational Studies – light blue; BS Electrical Engineering – orange; BS Environmental Science – golden yellow; BA Mathematical Thinking & Visualization – white; BS Mechanical Engineering – orange; BS Nursing – apricot; BS Physics – golden yellow; Master's – black; Teacher Certification – black

Master's hoods: Master of Fine Arts – brown; Master of Arts in Policy Studies – white; Master of Business Administration – royal blue; Master of Business Administration in Leadership – royal blue and Master of Business Administration in Technology – royal blue; Master of Science in Accounting – royal blue; Master of Science in Computer Science & Software Engineering – golden yellow; Master of Science in Electrical Engineering – orange; Master of Science in Cybersecurity Engineering – golden yellow; Master of Education – light blue; Master of Nursing – apricot; Master of Science in Community Health & Social Justice – golden yellow

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The University Mace, carried by Associate Professor Tyson E.J. Marsh, the University Marshal, symbolizes the authority of the University and of the faculty who have certified the graduates for their degrees. Its presence signifies that these proceedings take place under the official sanction of the Regents of the University of Washington.

Originally, the mace was an emblem of authority and a prerogative of royalty. The University Mace bears the inscription, “Presented to the University on the occasion of its Centennial by the University of Washington Alumni Association, 1961.” It is engraved with the images of the University seal and historic University buildings.

THE PRESIDENT'S SEAL MEDALLION

President Robert J. Jones wears the President's Seal Medallion when presiding over Commencement ceremonies. The tradition of the seal medallion began in 1958, when Dr. Charles E. Odegaard was inaugurated as the University's 24th president. On one side of the medallion is the University seal with a facsimile of the four columns from the original territorial University building and the University motto “Lux Sit,” meaning “Let there be light.” On the other side are the words, “Seal of the President of the University.”

PRESIDENT'S MEDAL

The University of Washington Bothell President's Medalist is selected from among graduating undergraduate students with the most distinguished academic record at UW Bothell and who has also demonstrated significant academic achievements and successes outside the classroom.

The final candidates are evaluated on honors and awards received, activities such as research and publications, and the application of knowledge to current or future activities.

2026 President's Medalist: Thomas Purchas

Thomas Purchas' academic experience was not always linear. His initial foray into academics left him without a degree and a lengthy transcript of poor marks that did not inspire confidence of future academic success. This experience motivated him to grow, prioritize his education and prove to himself that this period of his life would not define him. Throughout his time at UW Bothell, he pushed himself to do the best he could academically. As a result, he has been on the Dean's List each quarter and is graduating with summa cum laude honors.

During summer quarter 2025, Purchas received a Summer Research Award and began his journey into undergraduate research. Over that summer, he worked to expand the knowledge and experience he gained through "Intro to Econometrics," building econometric models to test the connection between extreme weather events in oil-producing regions and the stock performance of firms within the energy sector. His mentor, Dr. Anny Wei, associate professor in the School of Business, assisted him in the research process, in understanding the story behind the data and in setting goals. At the end of the summer, Wei extended the mentorship, which allowed him to do more research and ready it for presentation.

This experience culminated in October 2025, when he traveled to Atlanta, Georgia, and presented "When the Weather Hits the Market: The Financial Impact of Weather Extremes on Firms" at the 2025 INFORMS (Institute for Operations Research and the Management Sciences) Annual Meeting, an international conference typically attended by graduate researchers and faculty. It is worth noting that presenting at INFORMS as an undergraduate is an exceptional achievement.

In recommending Purchas for the President's Medal, Wei wrote, "Throughout these experiences, Thomas has demonstrated professionalism, strong communication skills and the clear trajectory of an emerging independent researcher. He brings purpose, curiosity and direction to his work. He is deeply motivated to conduct research at the intersection of financial economics and econometrics, particularly in risk management and forecasting. These qualities — intellectual curiosity, persistence, and commitment — are essential for long-term success in a Ph.D. program and in research."

During his junior year, Purchas began considering the idea of graduate school, with an eye toward getting a master's in Finance. Under Wei's tutelage and through some economics courses, however, he developed a better understanding of the topics he was most passionate about. In autumn 2026, he will begin the doctorate program in Economics at SUNY Stony Brook.

Wei added, "Most applicants to doctoral programs have not yet conducted original empirical research or developed methodological sophistication at the undergraduate level. Thomas not only met these expectations, but he also exceeded them. His acceptance into the Ph.D. program at Stony Brook reflects a level of preparation and initiative that rivals students from research-intensive universities."

CHANCELLOR'S MEDAL

The University of Washington Bothell Chancellor's Medal is presented to a student for extraordinary achievement at UW Bothell.

Nominees are students who have been a consistent source of inspiration for fellow students, faculty and staff — and who have overcome significant obstacles or endured major challenges in order to complete their degree or certificate program.

2026 Chancellor's Medalist: Koket Gebiremichael

Koket Gebiremichael was born in Ethiopia. When she was just one month old, her parents moved to the United States to build a life that would eventually allow her to join them. During her early years, she was raised by her grandparents. At six years old, she was then uprooted from the home she knew to move to the U.S. — a new country, a new culture and a new education system.

Gebiremichael navigated the next 15 years at school with little guidance. She is the first in her family to attend college in the U.S., working from the age of 16 to pay for her education. Among her many roles were nursing assistant, lab assistant, children's tutor and, eventually, a resident adviser in UW Bothell's Residential Village.

The last position in particular called on Gebiremichael's hard-won skills in navigating unfamiliar situations and creating inclusive spaces. She was hired for the role mid-way through her sophomore year. By then, the other apartment advisers had worked together for months and had established their own groove.

The new job also wreaked temporary havoc with her financial aid, adding unexpected pressure to pay tuition out of pocket.

Katherine Higgins, resident director at Horizon Hall, admired how Gebiremichael tackled these obstacles: "She had to quickly find her place, build trust and learn expectations all at once. Through this stressful experience, the thing that stood out to me about Koket was her optimistic mindset. Faced with what others might describe as impossible, she dug deeper, met with Financial Aid, put in more hours to meet people and build relationships, and left nothing to chance."

Gebiremichael went on to become a treasured member of the apartment adviser team. In nominating her for the Chancellor's Medal, Higgins noted, "Her natural relationship-building abilities and joyfully optimistic spirit pull others in and somehow make them feel a sense of belonging in the residence halls."

These skills came in handy elsewhere on campus. When Gebiremichael noticed an uptick in the number of East African students on campus, a light bulb went off: A lot of her peers were probably navigating the same issues she had faced.

There was no club for this growing demographic — no organized way for her peers to meet and support each other — so Gebiremichael decided to take action. With friends Yabsera Legesse and Eskndr Tadesse, she created Buna Talk, a club for the East African community.

The kickoff event in January 2025 attracted more than 100 students. Gebiremichael and her fellow organizers were expecting just 20 or 30.

Then, just five months after its inception, the club was recognized in May 2025 for its impact on campus life with the Club Council's Rising Star Award.

Likewise, Gebiremichael has had an indelible impact on her UW Bothell campus community. She is now graduating with two bachelor's degrees: in Health Studies and in Law, Economics & Public Policy. She plans to be a nurse who leaves a lasting impression with her patients and their families.
